

First International Conference on Philosophy and Meaning in Life

Sapporo, August 20 (Mon.) - 21 (Tue.), 2018

Hokkaido University - Humanities and Social Sciences Classroom Building
Room: W409, W309, W308

Keynote Speakers

Thaddeus Metz (University of Johannesburg)

" Is a Moderate Supernaturalism about Meaning in Life Possible? "

Masahiro Morioka (Waseda University)

" A Solipsistic and Affirmative Approach to Meaning in Life "

David Benatar (University of Cape Town)

" An Unexpected Route to Anti-Natalism "

The schedule including all speakers is available at the conference webpage.
(<http://caep-hu.sakura.ne.jp/event/>)

This conference is sponsored by JSPS Grant (no.16H0333707) entitled
"Meaning of Life from the Viewpoint of Analytic Existentialism and its Implementation to Applied Ethics"
(Principal Investigator: Nobuo Kurata)

Organizing committee:

Nobuo Kurata (Hokkaido University), Masahiro Morioka (Waseda University), Tomohiko Kondo (Hokkaido University), Tatsuya Murayama (Tohoku University)

Contact addresses:

Nobuo Kurata (Hokkaido University) : kurata@let.hokudai.ac.jp
Masahiro Morioka (Waseda University) : morioka@waseda.jp
Center for Applied Ethics and Philosophy : caep@let.hokudai.ac.jp

